Loaded Cigar Does Damage.

Everett Rector, of near Ruddies Mills, is confined to his room with painful injuries about the eyes and face caused by the explosion of a loaded cigar. Powder from a loaded shell was placed in the cigar, which was made by several young men who were engaged in stripping tobacco, for the purpose of playing a joke, but the quantity of explosive was underestimated with the result that when Mr. Rector attempted to smoke the cigar an explosion took place that lacerated his lip, burned off his eyebrows and has probably affected his eyesight.

Largest Crop on Record.

Big preparations are being made for the tobacco crop of 1910, in Nicholas county, and it now bids fair to excel in acreage the 1909 crop, which was the largest in the history of Nicholas county. From some sections it is reported that there is a disposition among some of the poolers of former years not to pool the 1910 crop until the independents sign up their crops.

BLUE GRASS LEAGUE NOTES.

The first game of the season in Paris will be played with the State University team, on Monday, May 2.

President Bacon, of the Paris base ball club, has received the signed contract of Goodman for this season. This only leaves Kaiser and Scott out of the fold, and their contracts will probably be received in a few days.

Louis Crutcher, the good pitcher with the Frankfort team last season, has been asked for terms from the Indianapolis team of the American Association. So it looks as if Crutcher will not wear a Frankfort uniform the coming season.

We understand that Ed. McKarnen, who played second base for the Portsmouth, O., team last season has been selected for the manager of the Paris team. The contract has been forwarded to him for his signature, but it has not as yet been returned by McKarnen. He is highly recommended.

Frankfort, it is said, will lose two of their best players. Geo. Yantz has signed to play with the San Antonio team in the Texas State League. He was considered one of the best catchers in the league last season. So far Lee Angemier, considered by many to be the best all-round man in the Blue Grass last season, has not signed the contract which has been sent him by the Frankfort management. Angemier is said to be dissatisfied with the salary offered.

Can they lay it on a woman? One thousand dollars' worth of hat plumes were stolen Tuesday from Harry Appel's millinery store at Cincinnati. Two hundred were taken.

More Snow and Sleet.

More snow, Wednesday night's rain was freezing in its humidity, and early yesterday morning it turned into sleet and snow, and continued throughout the day, when night arrived there was about four inches of snow upon the ground with a fine veneering of sleet and ice. Yesterday was one of the worst days of the worst winter one would care to experience. The taste of winter we've had leaves nothing to the imagination—it's the real thing. The way it looks at this writing the snow and ice-shoveling brigade will be in the midst of a hard battle this morning.

A Menace in Hair.

Vanity has exacted an awful penalty from a girl in Detroit. A case of leprosy, believed to have been contracted from imported hair, has been brought to the attention of the Board of Health of that city. If the report is authentic, other young women will think twice before augmenting their natural tresses with hair from dubious and unknown sources.

The recent passion of adorning the head with sundry braids and twists. Psyche knot, puffs, transformations, and what-not, has brought to bear such increased demands on the hair market that the dealers can not all afford to be scrupulous in her selection of material. Hair is brought from all parts of the world. India and Central Asia compete with the slums of Paris and London in the production of tresses to adorn the heads of American women. Unless the press reports are misleading, over in China they have formed the pleasant task of cutting of queues from the heads of dead Chinese coolies—who may have incurred the death heaven only knows how—and sending the hair to the American market.

The desire to look well and to be in fashion accompanies many women from the cradle to the grave, says an exchange. But what unusual forms it does take at times! Some of the puffs and braids that have inflicted themselves on the public within the past year or two have been bad enough in themselves. If they are hiding places for the germs of leprosy and other diseases from the Orient, they become not only amazing in shape, but most alarming in character.

A Short-Sighted Policy.

Specia's from: Southwestern Kentucky say quail are dying in large numbers in consequence of the severe weather, says the Courier-Journal. There has been an unusual amount of snow during the winter and the birds are starving or freezing to death because of their inability to obtain food in sufficient quantities to maintain life. Similar reports have come heretofore from different localities in the State. Representative Clay introduced a bill in the Legislature some time ago for the appointment of a State Game Warden. The bill came to a vote in the House last week and was defeated. The majority against it was so decisive that there appears to be small hope of the enactment of any similar measure at the present session. It is to be regretted that the State's representatives in the General Assembly do not realize the advisability of some adequate measure for the protection of fish and game.

Kentucky is one of a small minority of states where no action has been taken toward State supervision of these matters. In some of these states the need of such a policy is less pressing than in Kentucky, their supply of fish and game being more abundant. Under a system of conservation such as has been adopted elsewhere quail and small game would not be starving or perishing from cold. One of the duties of a game warden is to guard against such contingencies. Some of our neighboring states, which have departed from the ancient and outgrown methods that still prevail in Kentucky, have systematic arrangements which make possible prompt relief for quail and other birds in cases of emergency.

Kentuckians have been doing as they pleased in these matters so long that numbers of them are disposed to resent any effort at State supervision. This feeling was reflected in the action of the House last week on Mr. Clay's bill. That has been the experience in other states also, but once the conservation policy has been established it rapidly grows in popular favor. The Indiana Fish and Game Commissioner in a recent report asserted that he formerly found great difficulty in enforcing the law, but that such is not the case at present. In counties where his deputies used to take their lives in their hands when they undertook to prosecute offenders there now are large fish and game protective associations and hundreds of the best citizens are organized for the purpose of upholding the hands of the commissioner.

There is no doubt that a similar state of affairs could be brought about in Kentucky under a progressive and intelligent State policy. So long, however, as our legislative bodies do not recognize the wisdom of such action there is small hope of any departure from the destructive procedure to which we have been accustomed.

The Girl Everybody Likes.

She is not beautiful—oh, no! Nobody thinks of calling her that. Not one of a dozen can tell whether her eyes are black or blue. If you should ask them to describe her, they would only say, "She is just right," and there it would end. She is a merry-hearted, fun-loving, bewitching maiden, without a spark of envy or malice in her whole composition. She enjoys herself and wants everybody else to do the same. She has always a kind word and a pleasant smile for the "oldest man or woman; in fact I can think of nothing she resembles more than a sunbeam, which can brighten everything it comes in contact with. All pay her marked attention, from rich Mr. Watt—who lives in a mansion on the hill, to negro Sam, the sweep. All look after her with an admiring eye, and say to themselves: "She is just the right sort of a girl."

Discrimination Against Kentucky By Beef Trust.

At the hearing before the committee which is investigating the prices of foodstuffs, Representative Ben Johnson Tuesday brought to light the injustice being done by the beef trust to the Kentucky and other cattle growers of the Southern States. Mr. Johnson made Inspector Repp, of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, admit that the Northern packers discriminate in prices against all cattle producers south of the Ohio River. The admission as brought about as a result of a statement made by Inspector Repp that 1,000 pound steers were not selling at the principal stock yards in this country for $6.50 per hundredweight.

Mr. Johnson produced a Louisville paper herein it is stated that the highest-priced steer on the Louisville market last Saturday brought only $35.40, while the average 1,000 pound steer sold for much less. Upon being confronted with this, Inspector Repp then stated in substance, that the packers would not pay as much for a Kentucky steer as they would for an Indiana steer, notwithstanding the fact that the Kentucky steer might be just as good in every respect.

Being pressed by Mr. Johnson, he finally admitted that it was nothing more and nothing less than a discrimination upon the part of the packers against every steer put upon the market which has been raised South of the Ohio River.

Tribute to Capt. T. E. Moore.

The Lexington correspondent to the Courier-Journal pays following tribute to an ex-Bourbon:

"On the streets of Lexington may be seen almost any day that modest, but deserving old Confederate veteran, Capt. Thomas E. Moore. He was a native of Bourbon county, where, before the war, in which he distinguished himself, he served as Clerk of the County Court. In 1862 he raised a company of 120 men and joined the cavalry of Col. Giltner's Fourth Kentucky regiment. Company D, his command, did service under Lee in the valley of Virginia and thence to Knoxville, Tenn. He was in the commands of Breckinridge, Morgan, Longstreet, Early and others.

"At one of the engagements with Burnside's infantry, in East Tennessee, in 1864, a minnie ball shattered his right arm above the elbow, carrying a part of the bone away and it was never united again, though he has been able to use it some and can write with it. At the same time he was wounded in his left arm and his horse was killed under him. He was paroled at Mt. Sterling in 1865 and returned to his native county, where he received the esteem and confidence of his people. He was elected Sheriff and chairman of the Democratic Committee and member of the State Central Committee; also delegate from the Seventh congressional district to the National Democratic Convention in 1896, and again in 1900.

The old veteran carries his age and wounds well and says he is free from rheumatic ill."

School Trustees Bill.

Herman Southall, Representative from Christian county, offered an amendment to House bill 37, introduced by him some time ago, and providing for the election of white trustees for white schools and colored trustees for colored schools. The amendment provides for the election of a "colored visitor" for colored schools in each sub-district, these visitors to recommend to the division board certain needs of colored schools but may not become members of division boards. The bill passed as amended.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—At Bowling Green on court day mules sold at $175 to $250. One extra good one brought $275.

—Mr. H. N. Rankin, of Carlisle, bought ten horses in Paris; shipped 21 horses to the Redhorn, Pa. market.
He sold nine horses Saturday in Paris to Whaley and Fritz who shipped a carload to Quarryville, Pa. market.

—Believing that an entire herd of cattle at the Arkansas Hospital for the Insane was affected with tuberculosis, the State Board for Charitable Institutions has ordered seventy-six head to be slaughtered.

—Stock hogs in Hardin county are a scarcity and the price thereof is at an aeroplane height. A bunch of 50 sold at $1.20. Some of the dealers in this class of hogs are even asking 9 and 10 cents, says a dispatch.

—Farmers are preparing their plant beds for burning and before long the smoke of the burning will be seen in many directions. It is generally believed the crop will be a large one, though some counties report that the average will be smaller than last year.
It is likely that considerable quantities will be raised in some of the mountain counties this year. But little has yet been said about pooling the crop but that will come up later. If the pooled crop now on hand is sold to good advantage within a reasonable time, another pool will be formed, but if not, it will be a hard matter to form another pool.

—The porker appears to be on the way to $10 per hundred pounds, a price not touched since the Civil War. At the Bourbon Stock Yards in Louisville Tuesday the best grade of hogs brought $9.20 a hundred, an advance of five cents over Monday, and twenty cents over last week. Last week hogs touched the $9 mark, after having made bids for it several times the latter part of last year, and during the month of January.

It is just a simple case of supply and demand. Meat boycotts and the observance of Lent are not sufficient to offset the shortage. The hogs are not in the country, for if they were, present prices would bring them to market. Stocks of provisions at leading packing centers are less than one half what they were a year ago. At this season of the year, stocks of provisions show large increases. During the month of January the increase was less than one-half of that in January a year ago.

The farmer has been selling his corn because it was more profitable than feeding it to hogs. The remedy lies in the production of hogs. It is understood that at present prices, it is more profitable to feed corn to hogs, but at that it will take time to increase production.

Leading packers are predicting still higher prices and one is quoted as saying that hams will be selling at twenty cents before summer rolls around.

New Legal Holiday.

The first bill to pass both houses of the General Assembly and go to the Governor is that making October 12 a legal holiday, to be known as Columbus Day. This bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator L. W. Arnette of Covington. It was strongly urged by the Knights of Columbus, the earning Catholic fraternal organization, named for the great discoverer. The day has been made a legal holiday in about a dozen states of the Union.

The Frankfort Club of the Knights of Columbus will furnish Gov. Willson a gold pen with which to sign the bill making it a law. The act will be handsomely engraved, and with the pen, will be framed and presented to the Kentucky Historical Society for preservation in the State archives.

commends as his successor, Mr. U. S. G. Pepper. Mr. Boulden will go to Colorado with his daughter, Mrs. Leonard Morgan West in the spring or early summer. —The Valentine Social given by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Christian church Monday evening in the vacant rooms of Mrs. Mattie Purnell, was well attended, despite the weather. Everybody had a good time and there was lots of fun in store for all who fished for valentines. Some of the refreshments gave out early in the evening. Everybody was happy and ready to buy anything that was offered. It was a financial success far beyond the expectations of the ladies who had it in charge.

Draw Line on Saloon Men.

An effort to prevent saloonkeepers and bartenders serving as election judges or clerks in Chicago at the "wet" or "dry" election on April 5, was begun Wednesday by the Anti-Saloon League, which filed with the Board of Election Commissioners of Chicago a protest attacking the characters of sixty liquor men whose names appear on the official list. Accompanying the protests was a copy of an Illinois Supreme Court decision on June 16, 1900, refusing naturalization papers to a saloonkeeper who kept open on Sunday because he was not a man of good moral character.

Taft Impatient.

President Taft growing impatient at the apparent lack of effort to push to completion the passage of his pet measure and the promises of the Republican platform, summoned several Senators to the White House Wednesday and told them with unmistakable temper that something had to be done, and that without further delay. As a result the Senate leaders got together and announced Wednesday night that a programme of procedure had been agreed upon and would be put into motion today. It drops such measures as would provoke time-consuming debate and plans the advancement of those that can probably be pushed through in time to affect the approaching Congressional campaign.

Grace Van Studdiford at Lexington.

So much has been said and written about Grace Van Studdiford and her new opera "The Golden Butterfly," that an entertainment of extraordinary merit may be confidently anticipated. We are to have the entire production, which means scenery, costumes and electrical effects which characterized the opening performance in New York. The success that it has already received has passed the fondest expectations of the managers. It has attracted more attention and comment than any other comic opera that has been produced in this country during the last twenty years. It was written by Americans, and each member of the company are American educated singers. There is something about Miss Van Studdiford and "The Golden Butterfly" which seems to be attractive to the public, even before it is presented, invariably as soon as the seats go on sale all seats have been sold within a few hours, this fact may be taken as the strongest indication of the attractiveness of the production. The organization is made up of seventy-five selected singers and dancers, and a special New York orchestra. The engagement at the Lexington Opera House is for Monday, February 21.

Gives Up Hopes.

Hope of solving the fate of the little tug Nina practically has been abandoned by the United States navy and the problem will likely go down in history among the untold stories of the sea. In the opinion of the Navy Department she foundered, carrying down her entire crew of thirty-two men at some point between Hog Island, where she was last reported, and Winter Quarter shoals lighthouse, off the coast of Delaware, on February 6 or 7, only a few hours after she left Norfolk on her fateful voyage. Statements to that effect were made by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Winthrop Wednesday, in response to several inquiries by telegraph from the friends of the unfortunate crew.

The Hemp Crop.

If there is any crop which can be successfully pooled and sold in one lot it would seem to be the hemp crop, says the Farmers Home Journal. It is mostly grown in a few Blue Grass counties in Kentucky where organization of growers can be easily and effectively made and the product is one so safely handled in warehouse that it offers every promise of success. There is but one drawback when the prices are advanced—that of competition with foreign Manila and other substitutes. The present crop now under the brakes, is said to be small and the pooling propositions meets with favorable consideration.

Life on Panama Canal has had one frightful drawback—malaria trouble—that has brought suffering and death to thousands. The germs cause chills, fever and ague, bilious, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility. But electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "Three bottles completely cured me of a very severe attack of malaria," writes Wm. A. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had good health ever since." Cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and prevent typhoid. 50 cents. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer, the druggist. feb

State Farmers Institute.

The State Farmers Institute will be held at Frankfort on February 23, 24 and 25. Farmers from all over Kentucky will go to Frankfort for State Institute and the meeting will be one of the most interesting which has ever been held. Commissioner Rankin has prepared an attractive program for the institute and expects to have some of the best posted farm experts in the country to make talks. The session will be devoted to work and business and the delegates will have little time for anything outside.

Want to Join Pool.

Several Ohio counties, it is reported from Lexington, are anxious to join the Kentucky Burley pool. W. H. Paterson, a prominent Pike county, Ohio, tobacco grower, was in conference with President Clarence Lebur, of the Burley Tobacco Society Wednesday, and said that he would make a canvass among the farmers of his section in the interest of the pool.

Abolish Revenue Agents.

The Kentucky Senate passed a measure which abolishes State Revenue Agents. Under the provisions of the bill, County Assessors will be given the power to appoint revenue agents.

On Uneasy Street.

Reports from Washington say that the Republican leaders, from the President down, fully realize the serious conditions which confront the party in the face of the approaching congressional campaign and are resorting to every possible means to stay the unfavorable tide. The Allds scandal and factional feuds in New York, the printing fraud charges in Ohio and the far-reaching effects of the ugly Ballinger investigation is greatly adding to the embarrassments of an already serious situation.

The Best Hour of Life is when you do some great deed or discover some wonderful fact. This man came to J. R. Pitt, of Rocky Mt., N. C., when he was suffering intensely, as he says, "from the worst cold I ever had. I then proved to my great satisfaction, what a wonderful cold and cough cure Dr. King's New Discovery is. For, after taking one bottle, I was entirely cured. You can't say anything too good of a medicine like that." Its the surest and best remedy for diseased lungs, hemorrhages, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever—any throat or lung trouble. 50c and $1.00. "Fluffy Ruffles."

In accounting for the success that Florence Gear has achieved this year in "Fluffy Ruffles," a well known dramatic writer said: "Given a comedienne who is original and clever as she is beautiful and fascinating; who can sing and dance unusually well; endow her with a wink that creates in most men a desire to leave home; dress her in gowns and hats that are positively stunning; equip her with lines that are bright and witty, and songs that are tuneful and catchy; then place her upon a well set stage with other pretty girls and a number of amusing comedians, and the result should be, as it is, a most attractive entertainment." Local theatre-goers will soon be able to judge for themselves as to whether Miss Gear's performance in "Fluffy Ruffles" is up to the high standard she set in "Marrying Mary." last season, for this talented comedienne is booked for appearance at the Lexington Opera House on Saturday, matinee and night.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Proof That Persons Live Upon Planet.

Announcement of final proof that the planet Mars is inhabited was made by Prof. Percival Lowell, the famous Martian expert and director of the observatory of Flagstaff, Ariz., to Chicago astronomers as he passed through that city Tuesday.

Prof. Lowell announced that he had seen a new canal spring into being last summer, showing, he declared, that it had been just completed by the Martians, water had just been turned into it, and vegetation had just sprung up in a hitherto uninhabitable part of the great desert which comprises most of the planet's surface. Not only did he see the canal, but he photographed it. Previous photographs of this region, made as late as last May, failed to show any trace of the new canal. The fact that it developed between May and September, when it was first observed, Prof. Lowell regarded as positive proof that it was artificial, and, therefore, that living things exist on the neighboring planet.

Prof. Lowell conferred with Prof. S. W. Burnham, of the Yerkes Observatory, to whom he made the announcement. The new canal is 1,000 miles long, and the strip of vegetation on its banks, revealing its presence to the eye and the camera, is about twenty miles wide. It extends southeast from the region of vegetation known as Syrtis Major, through the great plain of Libya.

Prof. Lowell regarded this as the most important proof yet discovered of the existence of life on Mars.

Staggers Skeptics.

"That a clean, nice, fragrant compound like Bucklen's Arnica Salve will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, scald, wound or piles, staggers skeptics. But great cures prove its a wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, fells, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains and corns. Try it. 25c at Oberdorfer's drug store.

Mrs. Herr Wants Damages.

Mrs. Emma Walker Herr, of Lexington, who several years ago was an official of the Legislature and well known politician throughout the State, filed suit Tuesday against the Lexington Street Railway Company for $12,812.50 damages on account of personal injuries alleged to have been sustained by falling from a street car in Lexington in May, 1909.

She alleges that her bill for medical services was $745, for hospital treatment $385, for trained nurses $115 and for drugs $67.50. She says that for a long time prior to the accident she had been habitually engaged in literary work, writing articles for various magazines and periodicals and that was her only means of a livelihood, and for her work she received about $1,500 annually, and by reason of her injuries she has been unable for a long time to do any literary work and is without a means of livelihood and that her health, strength and nervous system have been permanently impaired.

Nicholasville Goes "Wet."

The local option election at Nicholasville Tuesday resulted in a victory for the whisky men, the town going "wet" by a majority of 30.

A vigorous campaign has been waged for weeks, and school children carrying banners participated in a parade, while the women served coffee and sandwiches at the polls and held prayer meetings in the churches in behalf of local option. The town has been operating under local option since September, 1906.

APPRECIATION FOR A POET

Sentimental Frenchmen Have Better Way Than That Displayed by Colder English.

On the day it was announced that the body of poor John Davidson had been found, I read a brief paragraph showing how such a calamity might easily have been avoided. The inhabitants of Tourcoing, in the north of France, are very proud of their local dialectic poet, M. Jules Watteun. Instead of waiting to erect a statue to him after death they have made sure that he shall be put beyond the reach of financial worry, that bane of so many poets great and small, during his lifetime. There was a demonstration in honor of M. Watteun last year and a public subscription was opened. The sum collected has now been utilized to build the poet a house, which shall be his during his lifetime and then revert to the commune, and in addition to secure him an annuity; while if his death precedes that of his wife an annuity of half the value will be paid to her so long as she lives.

Best Stomach Remedy Free

It is an old saying that if the stomach is sound the whole body is safe, because so much depends upon the proper working of the stomach. Many persons find themselves with a disorder of the stomach which produces dyspepsia or a peculiar state of biliousness.

If you suffer from both stomach trouble and constipation you are in the way to a very serious disease. From just such conditions come appendicitis, rheumatism, skin diseases and similar disorders, because the waste matter that should have been expelled from the system through the bowels has found its way into the blood and vitiated it. What is needed at this point is not simply a violent cathartic tablet or salt, which usually does more harm than good, but a gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which people have been using for these ailments for nearly a quarter of a century. It cured J. C. Lanham, of War-rensburg, Mo., of stomach trouble of long standing. Also, William Yell, of 903 Ellis-son St., Louisville, Ky., who had the trouble for fifteen years.

However, if you have stomach trouble and want to know from personal experience what Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will do for you. If so, send your name to the doctor and a free trial bottle will be sent you. You are urged to send for the free bottle, as the results from it will be the best recommendation of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Then you will do as well as two million people did last year—over two million people did last year—to your druggist and buy a regular bottle at 50 cents or $1, according to the size of the family. We could mention hundreds and hundreds of families who are never without it. You can never tell when some member of the family will need a laxative, and then no time should be lost taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service.

Objections To Proposed Consti- tutional Amendment on Taxation.

To the Bourbon News:

As it is well that all questions should be fully discussed before legislative action is had in reference to them, we have concluded to give some objections to the Constitutional Amendment in regard to taxation now before the Legislature. Admitting some of the evils charged by the Commission against the working of the present revenue system, they are to a great extent the results of an imperfect administration of the law, and not due necessarily to the Constitutional provision of equal taxation; and such or similar evils would attend the execution of any other system. The universal experience of mankind, is that personal property of the kind that can be concealed, is never but imperfectly given in for taxation. What security can anyone, who opposes the present system, have that the system that he favors will be adopted by the Legislature, or if adopted will be retained if the proposed Amendment carries. The sessions of the Legislature are so short as to not admit of any thorough or exhaustive examination of this question, and special interests will be concerned in getting what advantage they can. They, being able, will employ special agents or counsel, and they will thus get a consideration, that the plain people of the Commonwealth either from lack of habit or of means will not procure—what better illustration of such fact than the case of the United States government! There the special interests through the tariff reap untold millions from the consumers of the country, and their victims, the plain people, are unable to loosen their rapacious hold upon their pocket-books.
These special interests are fully able to employ the best counsel, and do so, and also, they personally appear in great numbers before the committees of Congress, and make big money by doing so, while the consumer who suffers and bears the burden, lacking both organization and money, is conspicuous by his absence. We would, if the uniform rule of taxation were abolished, see the same thing in kind in Frankfort.

To the man who replies that this argument implies a distrust of the Legislature, we would answer that the same criticism could be made against any other necessary constitutional limitation upon the power of the Legislature. Having given one of the main objections to any constitutional change we will now meet some of the objections made by the Commission composed of gentlemen whom we highly respect and with whom we regret the necessity of having to differ. They make the point that money loaned in the cities or in savings banks is taxed too high. This might be remedied by a change in the administration of the present law, and if necessary of the Statute law. If real estate is practically assessed at a fraction of its value, so may notes, bonds and money.
The Constitutional requirement of taxation at a fair cash value is no more obligatory on notes, bonds and money than it is on real estate. The main thing required by justice in taxation is equality of burden and the burdens of real estate and other forms of capital should be equalized, and that is the very essence and spirit of the present Constitutional requirement. We do not claim that the present statutory and constitutional system is ideal—and the statutory and administrative part might be materially improved—but it is certainly a bulwark and defense against the cohorts of special interests which in so many other cases have gotten control of the power of taxation.
A revision of the statute laws, to prevent double taxation and to provide a better and more perfect equalization of the assessments of the various forms of property, would certainly remedy most or all of the evils of the execution of the revenue laws of the State.
Surely to throw down all the bulwarks of the Constitution in favor of equal taxation in defense of the plain taxpayers and subject the revenue laws to the assaults of the special interests who can employ counsel and lobbyists, is not wise.

Again if they propose to take taxes off of personal property, then the burden on real estate must necessarily be increased. One reason why taxes in cities are so high is that the citizens are provided with many conveniences, and also there is great extravagance in the expenditure of money, and besides if the assessment is fair the real estate is as heavily burdened as the personal property. Some of the money in savings banks may be used unprofitably, and also much of the real estate may likewise not be utilized for any profit. If capital is needed in the cities or towns it is furnished by the banks, who draw it from any available source just as it is needed and in this way keep interest in the average just about the same as in other communities. In all our cities and towns there is sufficient loanable capital for all legitimate business or enterprises, and more would be hurtful, or would flow to where it was needed. All businesses tend to equalize in profits, allowing for the good or bad reputation, the safety or the hazards of each kind.

When any business becomes unprofitable as compared with other forms, more capital is diverted into the more profitable branches until equalization of profits take place or tends to take place, and so on forever. The action is just the same as that of gravity on water. You make a depression of the surface of the water, and the water flows in from other points to fill the depression, or if the water is too high at any point, the surplus flows outwards to effect an equalization. So, in general, business will adjust itself to conditions under almost any system, but the most important matter is that each individual shall equally bear the burden of taxation in proportion to his financial ability. We predict—the arguments of the Commissioners to the contrary notwithstanding—that the effect of the contemplated change will be to increase the burden upon the farmer and real estate holder. Too much importance should not be given to the experts' statistics, collected here and there from a very wide range of vision, unless in each case the innumerable modifying conditions, which are not presented and which very likely could not be presented, are thoroughly understood. For similar statistics might be furnished to favor any theory or system. Finally we take it that the main question involved in this whole matter is the right of the individual, in whatever business engaged, to bear a burden of taxation no greater in proportion than his fellow citizens bear.

Hamlet to Date.

To beef, or not to beef?
That is the question.
Whether 'tis nobler in the human corporation to suffer the stings and gnawings of unrequited appetite, or by taking pledge against the food-price boosters end them.
To sniff, to taste, to chew, to gorge!
—steak—chop, roast, tongue, ribs, wieners—perhaps to dream!
Aye, there's the grub!
For in what dream what vision may come—twelve cent hamburger, ten cent tenderloin, eight cent liver—to harrow up our starved imaginations!
Ah! 'tis the price that makes cowards of us all, inclining us rather to accept the vegetable menu, e'en though in dreams we rouse such indigestive pangs as sleep may conjure from the baseless fabric of a phantom ham!

No More Hazing.

Without more than a dozen Senators in their seats and without a word being spoken in favor or opposition, the United States Senate Wednesday, passed a bill which is designated to deal with the whole vexed question of hazing at West Point Military Academy.
The author of the measure is Senator Dupont, of Delaware. It provides that the superintendent of the academy shall make appropriate regulations for putting a stop to the practice of hazing, "such regulations to prescribe dismissal, suspension and other adequate punishment for infractions of the same, and to embody a clear definition of hazing."

Any cadet charged with offenses under the regulations, which would involve his dismissal from the academy, would be granted at general court-martial. It is provided that in case of dismissal no cadet thereafter shall be reappointed, nor shall he be eligible for appointment as a commissioned officer in the army or navy or marine corps until two years after the graduation of the class of which he was a member.

Patriotism

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the purwho goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach

Lost Carrier Pigeon.

A beautiful pigeon with one of its wings frozen to its tail was picked up yesterday near the court house by Mr. J. U. Boardman. He carried it into his office at his stable to thaw it out, and afterwards discovered a little band around one of its legs with No. 205 engraved on the band. It is supposed to be a lost carrier pigeon. He will keep the pigeon but will gladly return it to its owner if he should turn up.

Circuit Judges Get a Raise.

The second bill to pass both Houses was the measure allowing Circuit Judges $1,200 a year additional salary and requiring them to hold court for any judge who may be disqualified or ill. The bill passed the House Wednesday morning after some discussion and after it had been made a special order.

The bill has already passed the Senate and as soon as it is enrolled it will be ready for the Governor to sign or veto, as he sees proper. The bill does away with special judges and requires circuit judges to hold court in any district where the regular judge is unable to sit, for any reason, without extra compensation. The Governor shall designate one of the Circuit Judges to sit in any county where a judge is needed.

In the House the members again refused to make the county unit bill a special order. The motion had a majority of the votes, but did not have the necessary two-thirds. The vote was 53 to 20.

In the Senate the time was taken up with discussion of the good roads bill, which was passed by a vote of 21 to 10, just before adjournment.

The Elks Show Tonight.

Everything is now in readiness for the Elks entertainment which takes place tonight at the Paris Grand. There will be an orchestra of eight pieces of which Messrs. Saxton and Trost, of Lexington, will be members. Miss Betsy Ray will be the pianist. It is thought her efficient help that the rehearsals have been so successful. Mr. Morehead has been working night and day on his choruses and he now feels that his efforts are about to be rewarded in tonight's showing.

There will be songs by Messrs. Ed Fothergill, Harry Kerslake, Pierce Paton, Prof. Morehead, Ray Clark and Harry Saloshin. Then there will be a quartette which will be a big feature of the entertainment. In the afterpart comes Messrs. Turner and Saloshin who will sing "Base Ball" and do an act by the same name during which Mr. Turner will recite "Casey at the Bat" made famous by De Wolf Hopper.

Then comes the Chippewa with a musical act that would please the most exacting audience.

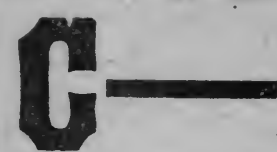

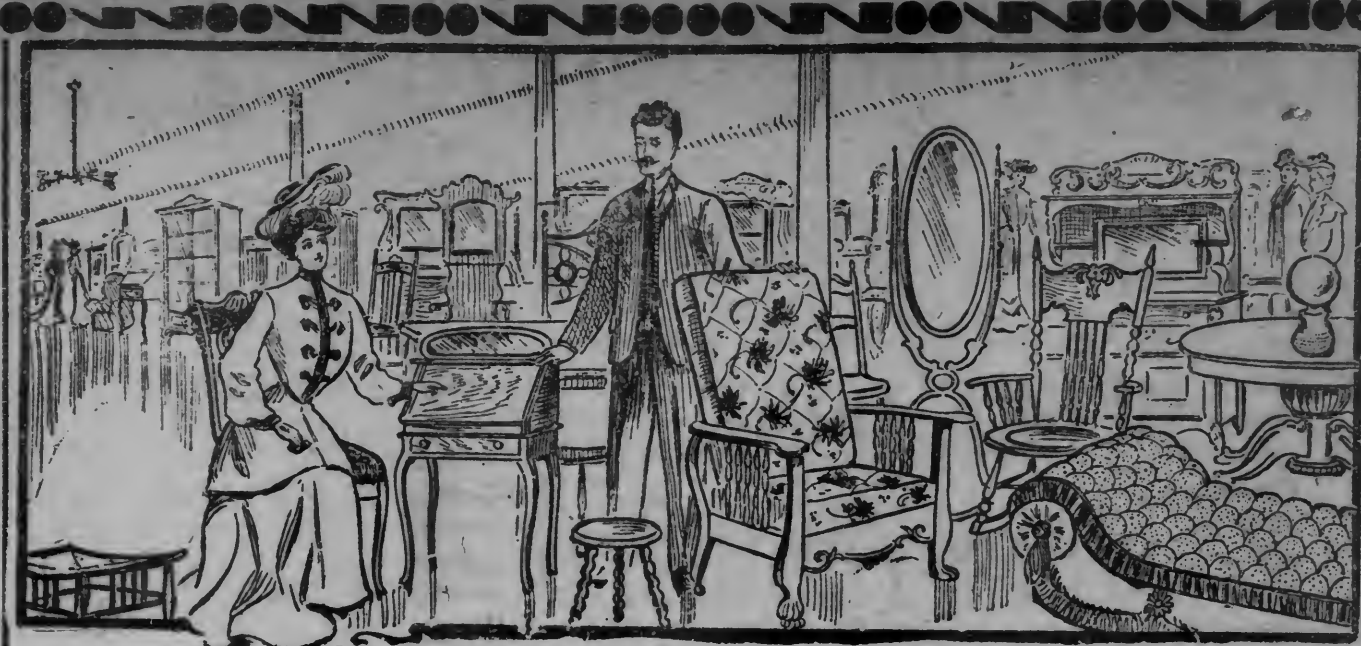

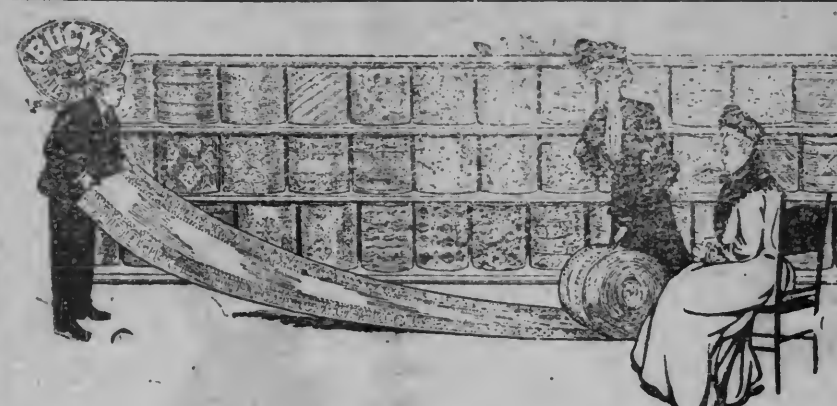

Last, but not least in the program is "The Rose of Auvergne" a comic opera in one act. This without doubt will be by far the best feature of the show. This comic opera has required more preparation than any other one part of the show. Mr. Morehead who is one of the characters, has been working daily on this opera for more than a month. Miss Birdie Wollstein and Mr. R. R. Biddle complete this trio of operatic stars.

Miss Wollstein takes the part of "Fleurette" landlady of a village cabaret. Everyone who has heard Miss Wollstein's sweet voice will welcome her appearance in comic opera with pleasant expectation.

Mr. Biddle has his part down to perfection and it will be safe to say that he will take care of his end of it. The most that can be said about this comic opera will be too little. Get your reserved seats at Mitchell & Blake-more's.
